

Public Sector Finance

Funding in the Public Sector arena is not the most straightforward type of asset funding around, requiring, as it does, an understanding of Public Sector procurement rules as well as the Prudential Borrowing Code and accompanying regulations.

We are proud to be able to offer you dedicated expertise in your area of activity; with our ability to offer tailored and specialist advice we can make a real difference.

Our team have been involved in transactions involving most of the areas engaged in public sector life:

- NHS Trusts / PCT's
- Foundation Trusts
- the emergency services (police / fire / ambulances)
- local education authorities
- local authorities
- universities
- higher education authorities

And we have advised on deals in relation to a range of assets and structures:

- police helicopters
- various vehicles (fire engines, police cars, vans, ambulances)
- clinical equipment and beds for the NHS
- modular buildings
- fully serviced modular buildings
- fixtures (e.g. windows and doors)
- office / IT equipment

The funding structures have involved straightforward operating leases, finance leases, the tripartite acquisition structure, assessing the advisers lease agreements, importing issues (where clinical equipment has come from the USA), and receivables funding.

In today's increasingly complex environment it is important to make sure that you get the right advice. At Halliwells we can give you the sort of advice that makes a difference. With our experience in asset finance we know how things work, and perhaps more importantly, how to make them work.

With the ever changing landscape affecting not only the regulatory environment and the dynamics of each transaction, but the constantly moving rules, we can help you to structure the transaction from before the outset and assist you throughout to a successful conclusion.
